

Bethany Lutheran Church and School Technology and Acceptable Use Policy

Objective

Bethany Lutheran Church and School recognizes that use of the Internet and e-mail has many benefits and can make communication and student education more efficient and effective. Therefore, staff and students are encouraged to use the Internet and e-mail systems appropriately. Unacceptable use of the Internet and e-mail can place Bethany and others at risk. This policy outlines our guidelines for acceptable use of the Internet and e-mail.

Scope

This policy must be followed in conjunction with other Bethany policies governing appropriate workplace conduct and behavior. A signed technology policy must be on file prior to a user gaining access to Bethany Lutheran Church and School technology. Bethany complies with all applicable federal, state and local laws as they concern the staff/student relationship, and nothing contained herein should be construed to violate any of the rights or responsibilities contained in such laws.

Use Guidelines

Bethany has established the following guidelines for appropriate, ethical and professional staff and student use of church and school technology and communications networks, including the Internet and e-mail.

1. All technology provided by Bethany including hardware, software, Internet access, Bethany-related work records and other information stored electronically, is the property of Bethany Lutheran Church and School and not the staff or student. In general, use of the Bethany's technology systems and electronic communications should be job or school related and not for personal convenience. All accounts and access expire 14 days after termination of employment or enrollment. It is the responsibility of the user to transfer all desired data to another device.
2. Staff/student may not use Bethany's Internet, e-mail or other electronic communications to transmit, retrieve or store any communications or other content of a defamatory, discriminatory, harassing or pornographic nature. No messages with derogatory or inflammatory remarks about an individual's race, age, disability, religion, national origin, physical attributes or sexual preference may be transmitted. Harassment of any kind is prohibited.
3. Disparaging, abusive, profane or offensive language; material that might adversely or negatively reflect on Bethany Lutheran Church and School; and any illegal activities-including piracy, hacking, extortion, blackmail, copyright infringement and unauthorized access to any computers on the Internet or e-mail are forbidden.
4. Copyrighted materials belonging to entities other than Bethany may not be transmitted without permission of the copyright holder. Staff and students must respect all copyrights and may not copy, retrieve, modify or forward copyrighted materials, except with permission or as a single copy for reference only. Saving copyright-protected information to a network drive or online storage location without permission is prohibited. Sharing the URL (uniform resource locator or "address") of an Internet site with other interested persons for educational reasons is permitted.
5. Users may not use the system in a way that disrupts its use by others. Users must respect the privacy of others, which includes the commitment not to reveal personal identifying, confidential, or other private information. Users may not send or intentionally receive excessive numbers of large files or engage in "spamming" (sending e-mail to thousands of users). Users may not attempt to access another user's account, password, or data; nor should a user share his/her password with another user.

Further, staff should change their Bethany and e-mail passwords yearly.

6. To prevent contamination of Bethany's technology and communications equipment and systems by harmful computer viruses, downloaded files should be checked for possible infection through the Technology Director. Also, given that many browser add-on packages (called "plug-ins") may not be compatible with other programs and may cause problems for the systems, downloading plug-ins is prohibited without prior permission from the Technology Director.
7. Every user is responsible for the content of all text, audio or image files that he or she places or sends over Bethany's Internet and e-mail systems. No e-mail or other electronic communications may be sent that hide the identity of the sender or represent the sender as someone else. Bethany's identity is attached to all outgoing e-mail communications and should reflect the Christian values taught in our church and school in content, appropriate language and conduct.
8. E-mail and other electronic communications transmitted by Bethany's equipment, systems and networks are not private or confidential, and they are the property of Bethany. Therefore, Bethany reserves the right to examine, monitor and regulate e-mail and other electronic communications, directories, files and all other content, including Internet use, transmitted by or stored in its technology systems, whether onsite or offsite. Bethany Lutheran Church and School reserves the right to remove a user at any time and without notice in order to prevent further unauthorized activity.
9. Internal and external e-mail, voicemail, and text messages are considered Bethany Lutheran Church and School records and may be subject to discovery in the event of litigation. This includes personal devices such as phones, tablets, and home computers on which Bethany data is accessed or a Bethany supplied account is logged in. Users must be aware of this possibility when communicating electronically within and outside the building.
10. Social media usage is restricted at Bethany Lutheran Church and School. Access is strictly prohibited for students. Ordinarily staff and students should not digitally communicate outside of Bethany Lutheran Church and School e-mail addresses or other approved communications programs such as a student information system, Seesaw, TeacherEase, Google Suite or other applications approved by the administrator.

Bethany's Right to Monitor and Consequences for Misuse

All Bethany-supplied technology, including computer systems, equipment and school-related records, belong to Bethany and not to the user. Users understand Bethany routinely monitors use patterns, and should observe appropriate discretion in their use and maintenance of Bethany property.

Because all the computer systems and software, as well as e-mail and Internet connections, are the property of Bethany, all policies apply to their use and are in effect at all times. Any user who abuses Bethany-provided access to e-mail, the Internet, or other electronic communications or networks, including social media, may be denied future access, and, if appropriate, be subject to disciplinary action within the limitations of any applicable federal, state or local laws.

Questions Regarding the Use of Bethany Technology

If you have questions regarding the appropriate use of Bethany electronic communications equipment or systems, including e-mail and the Internet, please contact your supervisor or teacher, or the Technology Director.
